

Important update.

Starting next year, Van Kaathoven will focus entirely on waste collection. As of January 1, our sister company, Valor, will take over the acceptance of waste at the weighbridge.

They specialize in maximizing the value of waste (valorization). They achieve this by carefully analyzing, sorting, processing, and composting waste wherever possible. Ultimately, the waste is sent to the appropriate processor to be transformed back into a valuable raw material. Visit www.valorgroep.com for more information.

Are we collecting your waste?

Then nothing will change for you. Your container(s) will continue to be emptied by our regular team. No action is needed from you.

Are you bringing your waste?

In that case, Valor will be your new partner from now on. We kindly ask you to update your records to include Valor Groep BV. Please use the company details provided below. Additionally, you will soon receive an email with your new waste stream number, which will replace your old number as of January 1, 2025.

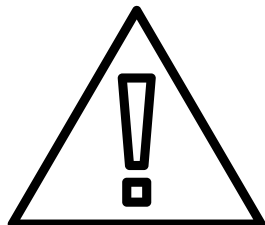

Are we collecting your waste and are you bringing your waste?

In that case, Van Kaathoven will continue to invoice you for the collection services. However, you will receive a separate invoice from Valor for the waste at the weighbridge. We kindly ask you to update your records to include Valor Groep BV. Please use the company details provided below. Additionally, you will soon receive an email with your new waste stream number, which will replace your old number as of January 1, 2025.

van Kaathoven

We are Valor, nice to meet you!

We maximize the value of waste. For businesses, manufacturers, municipalities, recyclers, and collectors. With waste literally and figuratively at our fingertips, our experts know how to create new raw materials. In this way, we add value to what others consider a by-product. We call this valorization.

Thanks to our entrepreneurial spirit, we are always curious about new opportunities. Our collaboration with pioneers ensures that we discover new processing methods and make more circular applications possible.

At Valor, we believe in transparency and honesty. No empty promises or vague stories: we do what we say and say what we do. With our years of expertise, asking the right questions, and a pragmatic approach, we make quick, decisive choices. This is how we get out what's in there. Every single day.

Valor - We take out what's in it
